"I am an emergency physician. I thrive on the fast pace and overwhelming environment regularly encountered in emergency medicine. I recently joined the Emergency Department at HSN. I feel privileged to be a member of a team that is dynamic, caring and professional. It is quickly becoming my second family.

Having grown up in Northern Ontario and completed most of our post-secondary education at Laurentian University, my husband and I were looking forward to moving back home to Sudbury to be close to our families. My favourite thing about being here is that I get to practice medicine in both French and English. I find many patients are relieved to be able to tell me their story in their first language.

I love what I do because every day brings new challenges and learning opportunities. When I am not working, my husband and I have developed a passion for travelling which has allowed us to discover different parts of the world and enjoy various food experiences. When we are close to home we love to be outdoors, hiking, fishing and camping, like true Northerners."
